

CONTINUOUSLY BUILDING THE CAPACITY OF REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS IN KENYA

Professor Koigi Kamau chairs a meeting.

Professor Koigi Kamau, an associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, chairs a continuous medical education on “The role of Progesterone in early pregnancy: A critical analysis of the PROMISE trial” at the Hotel Serena, Nairobi. The main speaker was Dr

Sikolia Wanyonyi, a Consultant Obstetrician/Gynaecologist and Fetal Medicine Specialist and Lecturer at the Agakhan University Hospital (AKUH), Nairobi.

This was a forum organized by the Kenya Obstetrical and Gynaecological Society (KOGS) and sponsored by SUN PHARMA, a pharmaceutical company. Present were members of KOGS from across Kenya.

Professor Ojwang' and Dr Omanwa Kireki give their remarks.
