

THE FIRST LADY, MARGARET KENYATTA AWARDED FELLOWSHIP HONORARIS CAUSA BY THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF OBSTETRICIANS AND GYNAECOLOGISTS

Dr. Anne Beatrice Kihara, President-Elect of the African Federation of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (AFOG) and a senior lecturer in the department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Nairobi, makes a citation about the first lady, Margaret Kenyatta during the First lady's award of Fellowship Honoris Causa Award from the Royal college of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RCOG) in Cape Town, South Africa. Dr. Kihara described the First Lady as a person who carries herself with grace, determination, commitment, focus and passion especially when addressing the plight of women and children.

The fellowships are the highest award given by the RCOG. The RCOG awards Fellowship of Honoris Causa to individuals who are non-members in recognition of their efforts towards the advancement of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, women's health services and other works of RCOG. The First Lady was awarded for her concerted efforts to reduce maternal and child mortality in Kenya.

Dr Kihara with the First Lady, Professor James Kiari of Division of reproductive health, World Health Organization, Geneva, and colleagues from the Division of reproductive health of University of Nairobi/Kenyatta National Hospital, as well as colleagues from other hospitals in Kenya and Africa during the RCOG World Congress 2017 held in Cape Town South Africa, 20-22nd March, 2017.
